

Strategic Questioning Workshop

Saturday, May 10, 2003

Discerning strategies for expanding the energy of the anti-war movement into long term organizing for peace and justice.

First United Presbyterian Church of Troy
1915 5th Avenue, Troy

9:00 to 12:30 Introduction to Strategic Questioning
(Bring your own bag lunch)

1:30 to 4:30 In-Depth Mentored Applications
Building a local movement for Peace and Justice

Strategic Questioning is a powerful technique for participatory decision-making in support of institutional, personal, and social change. By assuming good will on the part of those being questioned and examining potential common ground, a strategic questioner can call forth a better solution than he or she may have contemplated, and the person being questioned can join in creation and ownership of the change being sought. For an excellent account of the basics and application of Strategic Questioning to social change, see <http://www.crabgrass.org/article01.htm>

Paul Lipke will facilitate our workshop. He is regionally and nationally recognized as a leader in the use of strategic questioning to help organizations improve performance by aligning their actions with both authentic human needs and the laws of nature. Paul is Senior Facilitator and Director of Programs and Training for Sustainable Step New England.

Detach and RSVP by Thursday May 1, 2003

See you there!

[] I enclose $25 payable to Interhelp, Inc. for the Morning Session

[] I enclose $35 payable to Interhelp, Inc. for the full day

[] I cannot attend, but enclose a tax-deductible contribution of _____ to help others attend at reduced fees

To attend at a reduced fee, contact Michael Rice to inquire about scholarship availability

Name _____

Address _____

Phone _____ E-mail _____

Reply to Michael Rice, 67 Nine Mile Lane, Delmar, NY 12054, 439-6065, risprin@earthlink.net

This event is co-sponsored by Interhelp and Bethlehem Neighbors for Peace